

My Biography for ICACE

Prof. Slah Msahli has been a Textile Engineering professor at ISET of Ksar Helal since 1998. He earned his Engineering diploma from ENSISA of Mulhouse in 1998 and completed his PhD at the University of Haute Alsace in France in 2022. His research focuses on textile materials, specializing in evaluating their potential, optimizing extraction methods, characterizing properties, and exploring diverse applications.

During his time as Director of LGTex from 2016 to 2022, Prof. Slah Msahli showcased outstanding leadership, overseeing numerous national and international research projects.

With numerous publications and frequent presentations at esteemed conferences, Prof. Slah Msahli has significantly contributed to advancing the understanding and utilization of local natural fibers, earning him high regard in the field.